To Whom It May Concern,

We were thrilled to have the opportunity to collaborate with Dance Parade NYC this past Spring, once again bringing an enriching program of dance classes to our beloved older adult community. This marked the 5th season of welcoming the Dance Parade Ageless Action Program to our center, and the experience has been truly remarkable.

Dance Parade facilitated the partnership between the teaching artist and structured the program's curriculum, with a strong focus on engaging and promoting healthy movement tailored to the specific needs of our members. The response from our community was overwhelmingly positive, with an average of 20-30 older adults participating in the classes held weekly at our center in Queens.

The instruction provided by the qualified teaching artist was exemplary, demonstrating punctuality, preparedness, and an ability to inspire students through mindful teaching of invigorating movement techniques and engaging social dances that support an active and healthy lifestyle. Additionally, the program offered a unique opportunity for volunteer participation in the 17th Annual Dance Parade and DanceFest on May 20th, 2023, in New York City, creating a sense of unity and joy within our community. The culminating presentation for family and friends at our center showcased the immense progress and talent our participants had achieved throughout the program.

Looking ahead, we eagerly anticipate continuing our collaboration with Dance Parade in the upcoming seasons. Their programs have undeniably made a significant impact on our community, and we wholeheartedly encourage continued support for this organization and its dedication to promoting the arts and wellness among older adults.

Sincerely,

Roseann Rosado
